

WITH ONE DONATION, YOU CAN CHANGE A CHILD'S LIFE

Karan was saved from a life of violence and struggle.

Growing up, Karan was happy. He loved school and enjoyed reading and spending time with his classmates. He even found ways to apply his education at home, and used his expanding skills to help his family.

Then one day, Karan's father became ill, and his family was unable to continue supporting his education. Without school, Karan's future suddenly looked bleak.

At first, with no real direction, Karan spent his days wandering the streets, scavenging for anything to help himself and his family through their hard times. As his resolve grew he started working, but yearned to continue his education.

Thankfully, you intervened. With your help, we were able to provide Karan with the resources to complete his education — and reignite his dream for a bright future. In a few short years he finished school with high marks and went on to university.
