

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY SUNDAY, MARCH 8

Let's create a better world — together.

March 8 is International Women's Day, an occasion exceptionally close to the hearts of people — like Share & Care members and volunteers — who are working to create a better world for women, and a more equitable and educated world for all.

This year, we've set a goal to empower 20,200 women and girls — by providing access to peer mentoring, livelihood training, sexual abuse prevention, personal finance education, and self-help groups (among other tools and resources) through our Women Empowerment Signature Program. You can read more about our 2020 vision on our blog.

We're making strides, and we're committed to the road ahead.

At Share & Care, we know gender inequality is a complex, deeply ingrained issue. We also know that progress requires dedication, expertise, and comprehensive solutions — all of which are core components of our lifesaving, grassroots programs.

We hope you will honor International Women's Day by helping those most in need: women and girls suffering a multitude of injustices and violence simply because they were born female.

Will you join our mission to promote gender equality in India?

Gifts that Give Back

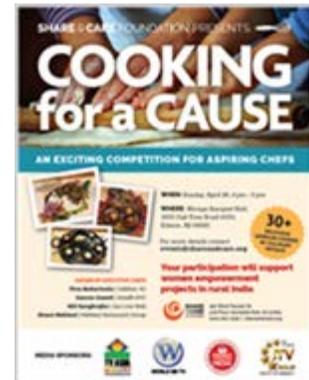

In honor of International Women's Day, AARYAH — an ethical and philosophy-driven jewelry brand — will be donating a percentage of all sales through March 8 to Share & Care's Women Empowerment programs. Shop here.

Cooking for a Cause

We're still accepting contestants for Cooking for a Cause, a fun and vegetarian-friendly culinary competition on Sunday, April 26 in Edison, New Jersey. The minimum age for entry is 16, and participants can compete individually or in teams of two. Entry fees are $50 and $75, respectively.

All proceeds will benefit our Women Empowerment programs. Sign up here.
