

THIS DIWALI, GIVE THE GIFT OF LIGHT AND LOVE

Diwali is November 14. Will you consider making a donation in honor of someone special?

This year, it feels as though the holidays are approaching more quickly than ever. While we are eager to celebrate with our loved ones, we also acknowledge that this holiday season will be unlike any other.

Whether you plan to join friends and family virtually or in person, we humbly ask that you keep our beneficiaries in mind — and consider honoring Diwali with a donation in honor (or in memory) of someone special.

It is now more important than ever to spread light and hope to others — and your gift to Share & Care will do just that. In addition to providing opportunities for healthcare, women empowerment, village upliftment, and education, our programs are also bringing much-needed relief to marginalized people and communities in the U.S. and India that are experiencing severe hardships due to COVID-19.
