

PLEDGE TO KEEP CHILDREN SAFE

In honor of Children's Day (Nov. 14) and Child Safety Week (Nov. 14-20), we're joining our partners across the globe in pledging to keep children safe.

This week we're supporting Arpan, one of our partner NGOs, in celebrating Child Safety Week — a people-led movement for collective action to address child safety concerns. Will you join us?

About Arpan

Our Women Empowerment Signature Program aids Arpan's efforts to prevent child sexual abuse, empower children with information about personal safety, and provide healing support for children who have reported abuse.

These goals are accomplished through contextualized, age-appropriate workshops which aim to foster safe environments where children (and adults) can communicate about subjects that are usually off-limits.

About Child Safety Week

Arpan has launched Child Safety Week as a way to dedicate a concentrated period of time annually for conversations, actions, and change efforts for child safety. A key goal is to change the narrative around child safety by looking at it through a lens of hope — not fear.

We invite you to support this movement by taking the child safety pledge or by donating to our lifesaving programs.
