

CELEBRATE GIVING TUESDAY WITH A GIFT TO SHARE & CARE

Today, November 30th, is Giving Tuesday. Please consider making a gift to support our work.

Scroll down to see a video highlighting how your generosity is helping Lokmitras reach out to children in need.

Giving Tuesday is an international day of generosity, meant to mobilize the power of donors across the globe, and amplify the good work being done by nonprofit organizations. This Giving Tuesday, please keep Share & Care in mind as you're making your year-end gifts. Your generosity can help us ensure children like Anil and Vishnu have someone looking out for their well-being.

Lokmitras Ensure Village Children Are Cared For

Lokmitras ("friends of the people") offer relief, education, and mentorship in their villages. They look out for children like Anil and Vishnu who are forced by circumstance to largely look after themselves, depending on the generosity of street vendors for meals and sorting through garbage to collect cartons for income. With your help, we can continue to support Lokmitras working through our NGO partner ESI.

Today, on Giving Tuesday, we urge you to consider donating to Share & Care. Your tax-deductible gift will create real, lasting change for people in need, like Anil and Vishnu. Every donation makes a difference and is greatly appreciated.
