Share & Care Distributes Thousands of Food Boxes to Local New Jersey Residents Facing Food Insecurity

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, our Disaster Relief Committee has been working diligently to provide much-needed assistance to people in the U.S. and India who have been affected by the virus, including those who are facing food insecurity and economic instability due to lockdowns and unemployment.

Last month, Share & Care volunteered and provided funding for the distribution of thousands of emergency food boxes to families in several municipalities across New Jersey — including Roselle, Harrison, Paterson, Trenton, and Jersey City.

Working with the Livingston Lions Club, we provided more than 5,000 food boxes — weighing more than 150,000 pounds — consisting of dairy products, fresh fruits and vegetables, and other pantry items, to long lines of local citizens in need of help.

Speaking to Share & Care Trustee Amar Shah at the recent food distribution event in Roselle, Roselle Mayor Donald A. Shaw remarked:

“Because of you, over a thousand people will be able to eat food tonight.”
