

WORLD

Immunization Week

APRIL 24 – APRIL 30

Imagine a world where cervical cancer is no longer a leading threat to women's lives. This World Immunization Week, Share & Care is working to turn that vision into reality, and we invite you to join us. Guided by the WHO's inspiring theme, "Immunization for All is Humanly Possible," we're doubling down on our efforts to make life-saving immunizations accessible to the women who need them most in India, in collaboration with the Rajkot Cancer Society.

Cervical Cancer: A Preventable Tragedy

Awareness, education, and early diagnosis are essential tools in combating cervical cancer. Share & Care is dedicated to ensuring women in underserved communities have access to these critical resources.

Our Impact Through Your Support

Thanks to your generous support, our joint initiative with the Rajkot Cancer Society has achieved significant milestones since May 2020:

Completed
4,346 mammography screenings

Performed
3,789
Pap smear tests

Organized over 500 educational camps

Administered 14,951
doses of the HPV vaccine

The majority of HPV vaccines were distributed at no cost to those in greatest need, with the remaining doses offered at a deeply subsidized rate – less than $14 per dose in 2024.

The Urgent Need

Despite our progress, the need remains urgent. Our goal is to increase these numbers by at least 25%

in 2025 and 2026, providing even more women with the protection they deserve.

Immunization for All is Humanly Possible

This World Immunization Week, stand with us. Your continued support is vital to reaching our ambitious goals and saving more lives. Together, we can make an even greater impact, ensuring "Immunization for All" becomes a reality.
