MEET THE ARTIST

Pandita Archana Joglekar

UNITED IN PURPOSE BOUNDLESS IN IMPACT

Annual Gala 2025

Where will you be November 2? We hope you'll join us for Rainbow Colors of Women, an unforgettable evening of expressive storytelling through the artistry of Kathak. But don't wait! Based on the responses so far, this show is selling out quickly.

Your presence at the 2025 Share & Care Gala, "United in Purpose, Boundless in Impact," will help us continue our mission to create a world that enables women and youth to rise out of poverty and improve their quality of life.

A Glimpse at the Artistry of Archana Joglekar & Group

This video is just a small, quick look at Rainbow Colors of Women. Gala attendees will experience many more powerful moments in this tribute to Nari Shakti as told through Kathak, the Indian classical dance known for its intricate footwork and graceful hand movements. The performance celebrates the story of women's roles as mothers, sisters, daughters, partners, wives, and friends, accompanied by music genres ranging from classical to folk to Bollywood.

About Pandita Archana Joglekar

Pandita Archana Joglekar is a renowned actress, choreographer, writer, director, educator, dancer, and acclaimed Kathak guru.

There's little in the art world that Archana hasn't tried — if not mastered. Born a child prodigy trained by her mother, Asha Joglekar, Archana is one of India's finest Kathak dancers. Archana is highly respected among Kathak maestros for her technical prowess and expressiveness. She has performed worldwide and at music and dance festivals throughout India, including being the first Kathak artisan to perform at the Elephanta Festival in Mumbai.

Her long, successful acting career involved working in live theater, films, and television in multiple languages, including Hindi, Marathi, Oriya, Bangla & Tamil. She has acted in 21 movies with superstars like Rajinikanth, Aamir Khan, and Rekha.

Following her successful career in Indian films and television, Archana moved to the U.S. in 1999 and founded Archana Arts — The Ivy League Kathak Academy dance school in New Jersey. With her many talents, unique style, and unwavering dedication to the arts, Archana serves as an inspiration for all women (and the world).
